LIFT EV'RY VOICE AND SING

Lift Ev'ry Voice and Sing — often called "The Black National Anthem" — was written as a poem by James Weldon Johnson (1871-1938) and then set to music by his brother John Rosamond Johnson (1873-1954) in 1899. It was first performed in public in the Johnsons' hometown of Jacksonville, Florida as part of a celebration of Lincoln's Birthday on February 12, 1900 by a choir of 500 schoolchildren at the segregated Stanton School, where James Weldon Johnson was principal.

Lift ev'ry voice and sing,

'Til earth and heaven ring,
Ring with the harmonies of Liberty;
Let our rejoicing rise
High as the list'ning skies,
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.
Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us,
Sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us;
Facing the rising sun of our new day begun,
Let us march on 'til victory is won.

Stony the road we trod,
Bitter the chastening rod,
Felt in the days when hope unborn had died;
Yet with a steady beat,
Have not our weary feet
Come to the place for which our fathers sighed?
We have come over a way that with tears has been watered,
We have come, treading our path through the blood of the slaughtered,
Out from the gloomy past,
'Til now we stand at last
Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.

God of our weary years,
God of our silent tears,
Thou who has brought us thus far on the way;
Thou who has by Thy might
Led us into the light,
Keep us forever in the path, we pray.
Lest our feet stray from the places, our God, where we met Thee,
Lest, our hearts drunk with the wine of the world, we forget Thee;
Shadowed beneath Thy hand,
May we forever stand,
True to our God,
True to our native land.

GREETINGS FROM BRANCH PRESIDENT DR. KAREN HARDIN

Good Evening Colleagues, Friends and Community Members:

We are glad you have taken time from your busy schedule to join us tonight for our 101st Freedom Fund Dinner and Community Awards Program. This is one of our annual events where we highlight and acknowledge the hard work of our community members and publicly thank our many sponsors and supporters.

It takes a collaborative effort to accomplish our annual event and a special thank you is extended to the Freedom Fund Dinner and Community Awards Committee who worked diligently to make this event a success. A very special thank you is due to Ms. Marion Holmes and Ms. Tracy Lewis for their years of tireless dedication to organizing this annual event.

Local branch officers and executive committee members are volunteers and it is amazing the time they give to ensure the mission of the NAACP. I want to say thank you to all the executive committee members for joining me in providing service to the branch members and people in the community.

We started planning this year's program as an in -person dinner originally scheduled for April 2020. Because of the pandemic and our concern for public safety, we rescheduled our community awards program as a "Virtual Experience" to celebrate the many contributions our local trail-blazers, pioneers and community heroes have made in Maricopa County.

Our corporate, and community organization partnerships are critical to our ability to help those in our community who need a hand up and those who need our support in achieving self-advocacy. Your support is greatly appreciated.

We are pleased to have with us tonight virtually, Attorney Jamie Clare Flaherty, Director of Strategic Initiatives for the Obama Foundation. Her presence will be a special treat and I am sure we will be motivated to continue striving for equal opportunities for all.

Today more than ever, we all must continue our civic non-violent duty in various forms and turn our energy into action at the ballot box. We all must pledge to protect our hard earned right to vote. This is a critical time in the history of this country, and we must work to re-store the checks and balances for a democratic country we can all be proud to call home.

Lastly, my desire is that you enjoy the program tonight and you are inspired to keep this county and this country on a truthful path that values all citizens and keeps the promises outlined in the founding documents; "we hold these truths to be self-evident, that all persons are created equal, that they are endowed by their, Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness."

Karen Hardin, Ed.D. Maricopa County Branch President

GREETINGS FROM ARIZONA STATE NAACP CONFERENCE PRESIDENT

It is my esteem pleasure to welcome you to the Maricopa County Branch-NAACP's Annual Freedom Fund Dinner and Awards Ceremony. Congratulations to the awardees. Thanks to Dr. Karen Hardin (the branch president), officers, and members; your hard work, Sacrifice and Commitment is appreciated very much and do not go unrecognized. Again, thanks for all you do to help make the city of Phoenix and Arizona a better place.

As the Longest standing civil rights organization in the country, the NAACP has a rich 111-year history, speaking out against acts of hatred, violence and discrimination in times of injustice. Our community knows all too well, that silence and indifference only bring pain and suffering, these days we can't afford to be silent.

We are rapidly approaching, two very important moments in our country, the 2020 Election and the 2020 Census Count. There is nothing more important to the life of our democracy, than allowing all who are eligible to have their say at the ballot box. We stand on the principles of democracy, and need to eliminate and address all aspects of voter suppression, and correct/fix, election machinery devises, focus on the infrequent voters, convince everyone that their one vote really does count, and can make a difference in the outcome of the election. We need to get everyone engaged so that we will be able to hold their elected representatives accountable to their constituencies, locally and nationally.

The census count is so important in many ways, including that the census data are the backbone of our democratic systems of government. In addition, census related figures are used to distribute more than 800 billion dollars in federal funding each year, to states and localities. Countless decisions are in the public and private sectors, are based on the census data. Unfortunately, some in our communities are reluctant to step forward and be counted. They do not realize that the information gathered is used to get a broader sense about the population in general, such as, the number of seats each state can have in the US House of Representatives. The information is also used to determine which communities will receive federal funding, and how much each year. These funds benefit the elderly, help build roads and infrastructure, schools, assist in public health efforts and contribute to neighborhood improvements. So, we all must ensure that we do all we can to get everyone counted.

Finally, each of us must work together to address several inadequacies, such as workers earning a livable wage, improvements in our education system, qualified teacher shortages, the criminal Justice system sentencing reform, community policing, for profit prisons, affordable healthcare /prescription drugs, mental Health crisis, homelessness, veterans, Seniors and the financial Crisis of Student Loans.

Yours in the struggle

Charles Fanniel President NAACP, Arizona State Conference

THE HISTORY

OLDEST AND BOLDEST

Founded Feb. 12. 1909, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People "NAACP" is the nation's oldest, largest and most widely recognized grassroots-based civil rights organization. Its more than half-million members and supporters throughout the United States and the world are the premier advocates for civil rights in their communities, campaigning for equal opportunity and conducting voter mobilization.

The mission of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) is to ensure the political, educational, social, and economic equality of rights of all persons and to eliminate race-based discrimination.

The vision of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is to ensure a society in which all individuals have equal rights without discrimination based on race.

FOUNDING GROUP

The NAACP was formed partly in response to the continuing horrific practice of lynching and the 1908 race riot in Springfield, the capital of Illinois and resting place of President Abraham Lincoln. Appalled at the violence that was committed against blacks, a group of white liberals that included Mary White Ovington and Oswald Garrison Villard, both the descendants of abolitionists, William English Walling and Dr. Henry Moscowitz issued a call for a meeting to discuss racial justice. Some 60 people, seven of whom were African American (including W. E. B. Du Bois, Ida B. Wells-Barnett and Mary Church Terrell), signed the call, which was released on the centennial of Lincoln's birth.

Other early members included Joel and Arthur Spingarn, Josephine Ruffin, Mary Talbert, Inez Milholland, Jane Addams, Florence Kelley, Sophonisba Breckinridge, John Haynes Holmes, Mary McLeod Bethune, George Henry White, Charles Edward Russell, John Dewey, William Dean Howells, Lillian Wald, Charles Darrow, Lincoln Steffens, Ray Stannard Baker, Fanny Garrison Villard, and Walter Sachs.

THE NAACP SEEKS TO REMOVE BARRIERS OF RACIAL DISCRIMINATION.

Echoing the focus of Du Bois' Niagara Movement began in 1905, the NAACP's stated goal was to secure for all people the rights guaranteed in the 13th, 14th, and 15th Amendments to the United States Constitution, which promised an end to slavery, the equal protection of the law and universal adult male suffrage, respectively.

The NAACP's principal objective is to ensure the political, educational, social and economic equality of minority group citizens of United States and eliminate race prejudice. The NAACP seeks to remove all barriers of racial discrimination through the democratic processes.

The NAACP established its national office in New York City in 1910 and named a board of directors as well as a president, Moorfield Storey, a white constitutional lawyer and former president of the American Bar Association. The only African American among the organization's executives, Du Bois was made director of publications and research and in 1910 established the official journal of the NAACP, The Crisis.

Yet the real story of the nation's most significant civil rights organization lies in the hearts and minds of the people who would not stand idly by while the rights of America's darker citizens were denied. From bold investigations of mob brutality, protests of mass murders, segregation and discrimination, to testimony before congressional committees on the vicious tactics used to bar African Americans from the ballot box, it was the talent and tenacity of NAACP members that saved lives and changed many negative aspects of American society.

While much of NAACP history is chronicled in books, articles, pamphlets and magazines, the true movement lies in the faces—the diverse multiracial army of ordinary women and men from every walk of life, race and class—united to awaken the consciousness of a people and a nation. The NAACP will remain vigilant in its mission until the promise of America is made real for all Americans.

OBJECTIVES

The following statement of objectives is found on the first page of the NAACP Constitution – the principal objectives of the Association shall be:

- To ensure the political, educational, social, and economic equality of all citizens
- To achieve equality of rights and eliminate race prejudice among the citizens of the United States
- To remove all barriers of racial discrimination through democratic processes
- To seek enactment and enforcement of federal, state, and local laws securing civil rights
- To inform the public of the adverse effects of racial discrimination and to seek its elimination

To educate persons as to their constitutional rights and to take all lawful action to secure the exercise thereof, and to take any other lawful action in furtherance of these objectives, consistent with the NAACP's Articles of Incorporation and this Constitution.

For more information on NAACP nationally, please go to www.naacp.org.

THE ROOTS OF NAACP - MARICOPA COUNTY BRANCH AND THE CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT IN ARIZONA

Since 1919, the Maricopa County Branch of the NAACP has been fulfilling the promise of equal rights for all people by fighting for and addressing civil rights issues in Maricopa County and throughout Arizona.

The history of the NAACP is one of blood sweat, and tears with bold investigations of mob brutality, organizing non-violent protests against mass murders, segregation and discrimination. It is the skill, talent, commitment and tenacity of NAACP members that have saved lives and changed many negative aspects of American society.

For more than a century the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has worked to ensure the political, educational, social, and economic equality of rights of all persons and to eliminate race-based discrimination. Inspired by the force and commitment of The Call of 1909, which denounced the growing oppression of people of color and mobilized thousands to work to bring this discrimination to an end.

Over the years, the Maricopa County Branch of NAACP has made great strides to increase its membership and to advance our mission to ensure the political, educational, social and economic equality of rights of all persons and to eliminate race-based discrimination throughout Arizona.

We plea with all persons living in Arizona to get involved and help us grow this organization, which will result in more power and more voices. We welcome your ideas and expertise in helping develop strategies on our continued journey for justice and equality. The struggle for Civil Rights needs "All Boots" on the ground more than ever.

If you are currently a member of the NAACP, thank you for your continued support. If you are not currently a member, we ask for your support and your membership. WE NEED YOU.

Human progress is neither automatic nor inevitable... Every step toward the goal of justice requires sacrifice, suffering, and struggle; the tireless exertions and passionate concern of dedicated individuals.

PIONEER AWARD - MR. CALVIN C. GOODE

After working for the Phoenix High School District until 1979, Mr. Goode was elected as the second African American at-large representative to the Phoenix City Council in 1972. He served continuously on the Phoenix City Council from January 2, 1972 to January 3, 1994. He was the longest tenured elected official in the history of the City of Phoenix, serving as Vice Mayor in 1974 and 1984.

As a City councilman, Mr. Goode helped to broker a compromise that led to a Phoenix ordinance that prohibited workplace discrimination against gays, lesbians, and minorities.

Guided by a deeply held belief in God and in the equality of all people, his life-time exemplified a powerful commitment to improving the quality of life in Phoenix, especially for young people. He applied the lessons he learned from a background of poverty and discrimination to advocate equal opportunity for all. Dedicated to educational excellence, he provided leadership as a teacher, parent, mentor and guidance counselor. He strived to provide affordable housing opportunities for those in need and championed educational programs during his 22 years in office.

He was a vigorous promoter of employment, job training and business opportunities through the Job Training Partnership Act and minority and woman-owned business programs. His strong concern for families and children resulted in the development of an effective Head Start program in Phoenix. His belief in government's role to provide leadership for social and economic betterment of its people was implemented through his 11 terms on the Phoenix City Council and through committee leadership at the Maricopa Association of Governments and the National League of Cities.

WHO IS MR. CALVIN C. GOODE

Mr. Goode's family came to Arizona to work in the agricultural fields when he was a baby. He remembers picking cotton as a boy. Calvin graduated from eighth grade in Gila Bend, but the high school did not allow students of African descent. He says his mother really pushed education, "...even though she only went to the sixth grade. Dad went to the eighth grade, but he wanted us to go to high school and so we moved in order to go to school." Then Mr. Goode family moved to Prescott where their children were permitted to attend the schools.

Calvin went to high school in Prescott until, in his junior year, he became ill. The doctor thought he had a heart condition and predicted he might only live for a year. He remembers, "I was sixteen at the time and can you imagine, I was five foot, one inch and weighed 75 pounds." His family decided to send him to Phoenix for his health. There he enrolled at Caver High School, the only high school in Arizona built exclusively for African American students. During his senior year at Carver he worked on the yearbook and was introduced to Black History. Mr. Goode graduated from Carver High School in 1945 and went to Phoenix College for two years. Then, he went to Arizona State University where he earned a business degree in 1949. Later, he earned a masters degree in education at ASU.

Mr. Goode recalls it as a time when African Americans were not allowed to eat in many restaurants, housing was restricted to certain areas and jobs were limited. He returned to Carver as the school accountant. When Phoenix schools were integrated in 1954, Carver High was closed and he got other jobs in the Phoenix Union High School District. He worked a total of thirty-years for PUHSD.

During those years he also ran a tax accounting business, called Calvin Goode & Associates. He explains, "We started out on the kitchen table and people came, Mr. Goode help me with this.' Our price was very low and we did it to help people."

Calvin married his wife Georgie in 1960. She was a school teacher and together they raised three sons and were both involved in a wide variety of community affairs. During that time, he served on the local school board and chaired the Phoenix LEAP Commission to improve education and job training opportunities.

In 1971, Mr. Goode was persuaded to run for a seat on the Phoenix City Council. Always soft-spoken, he says some people thought he was too timid to run for office, "they didn't think I could win. But with the charter government committee help, and with my contacts made in the community, we put together a campaign." He was elected and served for a total of eleven terms, a record twenty-two years. Mr. Goode was often called "conscience of the council" because he used his voice to raise questions and pushed for neglected parts of the community. To commemorate his years of service to the city, the Phoenix Municipal Building was named in his honor.

During his retirement, Mr. Goode still continues to serve his community. He is past president of the Phoenix Elementary School Board and worked on the transition committee for Governor Janet Napolitano. He still lives in the house he purchased in 1955 on 15th Street and Jefferson. He's active with the neighborhood improvement association and Booker T. Washington Child Development Center, a Head Start Program.

Mr. Goode is also back walking the halls of his high school alma mater. He explains, "There was a lot of pride in the school. There are a lot of folks who graduated from Carver, not only in athletics, but academically too, who have achieved a great deal and what could be more fitting than where you went to high school, to bring it back as a museum." The Carver alumni organization, led by Mr. Goode, acquired the old two-story building and is working to restore Carver High School to a place of pride in the community, as the George Washington Carver Museum and Cultural Center, showcasing the achievements of African Americans in Phoenix and Arizona.

Following is a list of the organizations Mr. Goode has served:

- Tanner Properties, Inc.
- Booker T. Washington Child Development Center
- Phoenix Monarchs Alumni Association (George Washington Carver Museum & Cultural Center)
- Eastlake Park Neighborhood Association
- Phoenix Elementary School District Governing Board (Past)
- Governor's African American Advisory Council
- Arizona State University Minority Advisory Council
- Attorney General's African American Advisory Council

COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD -ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE

ADL / AT A GLANCE

Founded in 1913, our timeless mission remains the same: "To stop the defamation of the Jewish people and secure justice and fair treatment to all."

What We Fight

ANTI-SEMITISM

In 1913 we stepped forward and spoke out against widespread attacks against Jews in the media, in the courts and in society. Today, we continue our unyielding support of Jews worldwide. We speak out and stand up against anti-Semitism in classrooms, online and on the streets. Our vigilance knows no bounds.

EXTREMISM

We fight extremism and abject hate with extensive reach and resources. We vigilantly monitor and investigate individuals and organizations that actively promote hate-filled ideological beliefs and a need for action. We are a global authority on extremism and our efforts are unrelenting.

BIGOTRY, BIAS & DISCRIMINATION

We confront hate in all its forms to keep it from escalating. We deliver on this issue with authority and discipline—for example, we helped craft the first model hate crime legislation in the United States. We will work to stand up for those who are vulnerable in order to help create a world free from hate.

CYRERHATE

Hate lives out in the open and hides in the far corners of the web. And so, we search, investigate, monitor and analyze its online presence around the clock. We work with companies whose platforms may disseminate hate speech to prevent that hate from coming to life. From bullying to religious discrimination to civil rights abuses, we root out and remove hatred from screens everywhere.

How We Work

INVESTIGATE AND RESEARCH

ADL tracks extremism of all kinds and releases original research on trends in hate both offline and online – from the role of misogyny in white supremacy to the potential for artificial intelligence to identify hateful comments.

EDUCATE AND TRAIN

ADL is a principal provider of school programs in the U.S. for anti-bias training, bullying prevention, Holocaust education and anti-Semitism awareness. We also provide training to federal, state and local law enforcement on implicit bias, police-community relations, extremist threats, hate crimes and cybersafety.

ADVOCATE AND ASSIST

ADL works with elected officials and policymakers to ensure the protection of American civil rights. We file legal briefs in some of our nation's most major civil rights cases. Together with social media partners, we advocate against cyberhate. We fight hate and bias with diverse coalitions, companies and individuals.

Where We Are

Regional Offices

COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD

OUR MISSION

ACDL is a non-profit law firm that assists Arizonans with disabilities to promote and protect their legal rights to independence, justice, and equality.

OUR VISION

A society where people with disabilities enjoy full acceptance without barriers.

OUR VALUES

Disability does not diminish a person's basic right to independence, or a person's responsibility to participate in, and to contribute to all aspects of society.

THE ARIZONA CENTER FOR DISABILITY LAW

The Arizona Center for Disability Law (ACDL) is the federally-designated Protection and Advocacy System for the State of Arizona. Protection and Advocacy Systems (P&As) throughout the United States assure that the legal, human, and civil rights of persons with disabilities are protected.

In creating Protection and Advocacy Systems, Congress gave us unique authorities and responsibilities, including the power to investigate reports of abuse and neglect and violations of the rights of persons with disabilities. P&As are also authorized to pursue appropriate legal and administrative remedies on behalf of persons with disabilities to insure the enforcement of their constitutional and statutory rights.

For the past 9 years, ACDL has hosted the African American Conference on Disabilities. Along with partners, ABILITY360 and the Arizona Center for African American Resources (AzCAAR), this comprehensive conference addresses disability rights issues at the intersection of race and disability. The conference examines avenues for self-advocacy to ensure access to necessary services and enforcement of civil rights in the African American and disability communities.

Every year, agencies such as Arizona Center for Disability Law utilizes funding to complete multiple projects that advocate for greater access to Arizona's voting systems for people with disabilities. This includes projects such as poll-worker training covering topics like procedures regarding voters with disabilities, how to operate accessible voting equipment at polling sites, obligations regarding accommodations under Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act and Arizona Civil Rights Act, and general disability etiquette.

As a recipient of the Online Voter Registration Unique URL Pilot Program from the Arizona Secretary of State's office, ACDL is actively working to conduct virtual voter registration drive. The Unique URL Pilot Program provides a way for organizations to conduct voter registration drives electronically and ensure security through the Secretary of State's website. The goal of this program is to increase voter registration of Arizonans with disabilities and register 1,000 voters by the General Election deadline, October 5, 2020. This program will help ensure that our current public health crisis doesn't impact voter registration opportunities typically available through ACDL and other organizations.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD ROOSEVELT SCHOOL DISTRICT GOVERNING BOARD

The Role of the Governing Board

The five members of Roosevelt School District's Governing Board have been elected by the people of the district to their positions. Their main responsibilities are to formulate and approve the policies which guide the operation of the district. These policies are then implemented by the superintendent and district staff. These policies include the employment of all district personnel, the development of job descriptions and responsibilities, approval of annual salary schedules, the development of annual operating budgets, the development of annual capital expenditure budgets, and the approval of textbooks and other curricular materials.

Board members are elected for four-year terms. There is no limit on the number of terms a member may serve, and they are not paid for their services. Board candidates must reside within the district boundaries for one year prior to being elected to office. We appreciate the countless hours that our board members invest in the future of our children. All Board meetings, except executive sessions, are open to the public. Under Arizona law, the Board may call an executive session to discuss personnel matters, the purchase or lease of real property, meet-and-confer discussions and legal matters with attorneys.

Governing Board Duties

As outlined by the Arizona School Boards Association (ASBA), the duties of school board members are responsible for broad, futuristic thinking, minute analysis and decisive action in all areas that affect students and staff in their schools. Some roles and responsibilities are implicit. Others are specifically mandated (A.R.S. §15-341) or allowed (§15-342) by Arizona law. Everything board members do is focused on providing the best education possible for the children in their community.

Set the Direction

The governing board, with extensive involvement from the staff and community, is responsible for envisioning the future of the public schools in their community. After setting the vision and mission for the district, the governing board works collaboratively to establish strategic goals to move the organization toward the community's vision for its schools.

Provide Support

The board provides support to its organization by ensuring that resources are adequate and aligned to meet established goals. Support also is provided by recognizing and encouraging excellence throughout the organization.

Ensure Accountability

As the community's representative in the local schools, the board is responsible for ensuring that the schools are well run – that resources are used wisely and that high standards for academic performance are set. The board as a whole needs to monitor performance to meet established goals – academic, financial and operational.

Advocate for Your Students

One of the board's most important roles is to be the ambassador for public education in the community. As individuals, each board member can help communicate the ways in which their local schools are supporting student educational needs, parent and community aspirations, and state and federal standards. Together, the board also can demonstrate that an atmosphere of collaboration and respect is the most conducive environment for providing the best education for children in the community.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD BENNY MALONE POSTHUMOUS AWARD

Benny Malone grew up in Tyler, Texas to Ben Malone Sr. and Izora Morgan. He was one of 8 children. At a young age, his family moved West to Arizona, to begin a new life. While he was a middle child, he took his place as the family patriarch, once his father had passed.

As a teen, he attended Santa Cruz High School, in Eloy, Arizona. He was a football star and in his first game he ran for 275 yards. By the time he graduated in 1970, he left his mark. He was recognized in the Scholastic Coaches magazine as high school ALL American, awarded A-South back of the year, and received varsity letters and first place awards in football and track. He also led the team to state football championship wins.

Benny Malone received an athletic scholarship to play for the Arizona State Sun Devils. He wore the number 32 and he was a force to be reckoned with, on the field. In his first year, he ran for 4 touchdowns. He holds the record with Woody Green from 1973 as the duo with 2,399 yards! His record of 5 touchdowns against Oregon State held for 45 years, until broken recently! He also achieved back of the week by the NCAA. He was inducted into ASU Hall of Fame in football, in 1983. He earned a Bachelor's Degree in Education and will be forever remembered synonymously with ASU football.

After his NFL retirement he taught briefly. While his position was an aid, teachers called upon him to talk with the students and mentor them. His ability to relate and calm them helped the students open up to him. It was there where he was able to teach children life lessons that may not have been received at home. He understood that education was one of the most important tools in life so he remained steadfast in helping the youth see it.

During the 70's, Benny volunteered as a telephone celebrity, for the Arizona Easter Seals telethons, donating time and t-shirts. In retirement, he had decided upon a career change. His new calling, screen printing. He confessed that he never dreamed of this, but he found it fulfilling and peaceful. He opened Major T's, now known as Malone Sport and Print, in the late 80's. At that time, there were a few screen printers and none were black-owned. He served as a resource for many local black-owned businesses and organizations. He worked closely with the local NAACP chapters in Maricopa County,

Arizona Black Engineers, ASU sororities and fraternities, the Arizona Black Rodeo, organizers of Juneteenth, and the Arizona Black Expo, to name a few. He welcomed helping the community and contributing anywhere there was a need. His acts of humanitarian work included supplying clothing and jackets for victims of Hurricane Katrina and to organizations in the Phoenix community for many years. He understood the impact local leaders have in their communities and was a humble change agent and mentor to many. Participating in 15 Super Bowls as a vendor, he was able to provide 387 boxes of clothing to the people, in Africa! He also worked with the Arizona Steelers youth football group and sponsored youth athletic teams throughout the valley whenever requested.

Benny was recognized, in 2009, by the Arizona State University Black Engineers for his accomplishments at ASU and his community service work domestic and international.

Benny Malone passed away on March 19, 2020. He loved children and all the potential they held. He believed in the human spirit and being kind. Before his passing, he and his family provided life necessities backpacks to help aid homeless as chronic homelessness has risen in the Phoenix community this year. His wife, Laura Malone, and children will carry on his legacy.

Malone was inducted into the Santa Cruz Valley Union High School Hall of Fame in 2010.

MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION

BECOME A MEMBER

Become a member of the oldest and boldest civil rights organization in America! For more than a century, NAACP members have fought and won many of the freedoms and equalities long denied a group of individuals, but the times ahead are just as critical as decades past. We need your help and your membership to fight the racial disparities that are still so prevalent in American education, jobs, housing, health care and the criminal justice system.

Tribute To United States Representative John Lewis

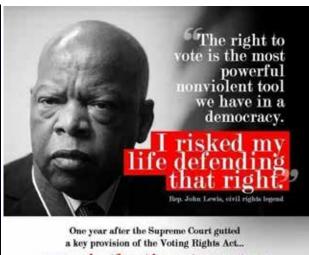

The day Lewis and the marchers initially crossed the bridge became known as "Bloody Sunday" and galvanized Americans' support for the Voting Rights Act of 1965 that was signed into law by President Lyndon B. Johnson. "I gave a little blood on that bridge," Lewis said years later. "I thought I was going to die. I thought I saw death."

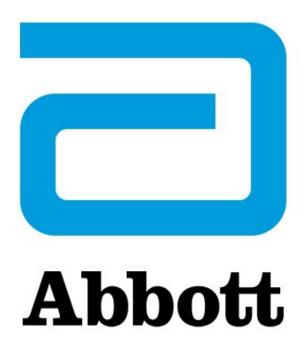

The march has been reenacted many times on its March 7, 1965, anniversary. In 2015, President Barack Obama marked the 50th anniversary of the march by delivering a speech at the foot of the Edmund Pettus Bridge, and the following year, the marchers received a Congressional Gold Medal, Congress' highest civilian honor.

now is the time to restore voting protections for ALL.

HONOR REP. JOHN LEWIS BY VOTING ON NOVEMBER 3, 2020!

We look forward to seeing you next year!
